Description

A new village school, accommodating children aged 5 to 15 under a single roof, supported by the first long span glulam structure in Kosovo. The school, funded through Children-on-the-Edge, is an exemplar aid project.

Youmeheshe director Simon Beames designed the school in close collaboration with the village community, the children and the NGO. The project also included aiding the fund raising process and to create the most out of a limited budget.

An extension to an orphanage in Romania was also NGO-funded. New rooms were constructed to create conditions worth living in for the children. Youmeheshe director Simon Beames was a voluntary advisor for this project.

// We exist to help the most marginalised and vulnerable children around the world, those literally on the edge.
